DIAMOND BAR, CALIF., June 28, 2016 – NOVAtime Technology, Inc. (<http://www.novatime.com>), a leading provider of Workforce Management solutions for enterprise organizations, announced that Montessori Academy of Colorado has benefited from NOVAtime's easy-to-use secure data collection workforce management solution. It has efficiently automated and managed its time and attendance process for their 60 employees located in an academic setting.

Montessori Academy of Colorado (<http://www.montessoriacademyofcolorado.org/>) has been educating the community's children for 13 years. The Montessori school was founded on the philosophy of Dr. Maria Montessori. The school was established on the belief that children should develop independence, organization, and problem solving through exploration. The range of students taught at Montessori Academy of Colorado starts at 8 weeks of age to elementary-aged.

Kristen Hume, Business Manager, explains how NOVAtime Solutions are a great fit for the academy because of the PUSH technology. During the ten years of operation prior to using NOVAtime, Montessori Academy of Colorado used paper time sheets. Upon using NOVAtime for the last three years, Hume states that she appreciates how everything is now electronic. "I like that it is consistent—it is all centralized in one location, and I can easily make edits." While Kristen Hume was not present during the implementation of NOVAtime, she has heard nothing but great feedback from her fellow staff members who were present.

Montessori Academy of Colorado is using NOVAtime's Fingerprint time clock which allows each employee to be uniquely identified. The NOVAtime solution is also set up to handle departmental transfers to track the hours of employees working in multiple sections. Ms. Hume adds, "NOVAtime's time clock can seamlessly calculate an employee who moves from teaching in the toddlers' section to the primary classes. We can easily track our labor hours and costs by department." Montessori Academy of Colorado has paired with Wells Fargo for their payroll process.
