

Dole Packaged Foods Selects NOVAtime to Automate Its Timekeeping

Dole Packaged Foods - Atwater Operations has selected NOVAtime Technology, Inc. to automate its time and attendance process for permanent and part-time employees at multiple work sites.

"NOVAtime's solution gives Dole the necessary tools to enable our staff to accurately schedule and track time for its permanent, seasonal, and contract employees."

Founded in Hawaii in 1851, Dole Food Company is the world's largest producer and marketer of high-quality fresh fruit and vegetables. Dole markets a growing line of packaged and frozen foods, and it is a produce leader in nutrition education and research.

"NOVAtime's solution gives Dole the necessary tools to enable our staff to accurately schedule and track time for its permanent, seasonal, and contract employees at our Atwater, Stockton, and Decatur, Michigan plants. We are excited to be partnering with NOVAtime and look forward to working with their team," says Larry King, Director of Human Resources for Dole Packaged Foods – Atwater Operations.

The NOVAtime 4000 system provides enterprise organizations with the ability to manage employees' time and attendance with accuracy; calculate job and labor data to control expenses; and prepare timely payrolls with exceptional reliability. Furthermore, with NOVAtime, there are no recurring license fees, which contribute to an overall low cost of ownership for the entire workforce management system.

"Dole Packaged Foods was looking for a time and attendance solution to help standardize our timekeeping processes company-wide and make timekeeping activities throughout the organization more efficient—with less manual effort," states Mr. King. NOVAtime 4000 will allow Dole to realize the company objectives, while also providing capability and benefits beyond these goals.

"We are delighted that Dole chose NOVAtime as its partner for this important project," says Frank Su, President and CEO of NOVAtime. "With NOVAtime, they'll not only be able to improve the company's time and attendance processes, but they will also see an increase in employee satisfaction."
